

World Works FAQ's

What is World Works? Is it a charity?

The mission of FREEB!RDS is to feed your belly and your soul. We fill our guest's bellies with great food, but we hope to feed their souls as well.

But FREEB!RDS World Works is not really a charity. Our goal is to provide the opportunities and inspiration to get our staff and guests engaged enough to go out and CHANGE THE WORLD.

So how do you do "Change the World"?

It about leading by example and sharing our stories. As big as our burritos are, so is our desire to serve. Serve our guests and serve the world.

We work hard to make our guests feel cared for, to treat them with genuine kindness and demonstrate that it is honorable to serve others. We hope they are inspired and motivated to want to serve others as well. Through World Works we can get them started.

What exactly does FREEB!RDS World Works do?

The mission of FREEB!RDS World Works is to promote charitable opportunities and to simply invite people to share their time, talent, or treasure, helping others.

It is human nature to help each other out, but you have to let people know where and how they can help. In our restaurants, on our web site, and in the media, we promote different events and charities people can get involved with.

The second step is to personally invite people. We know that people are much more willing to help each other, to step up and make a difference, if they are simply asked to do so.

Why does FREEB!RDS do this?

We take a world view and know we can make a difference. Getting people involved not only benefits the recipients, but the givers most often experience a sense of unity and joy that makes them want to continue doing so. It is a positive cycle that we wish to share with everyone. And like our hippie forefathers, we believe we can change the world.

Is it good for your business too?

The stories our staff and guest share are great and often touching. Just hearing about World Works makes people feel good about FREEB!RDS. Participating in World Works makes people feel good about themselves.
